ASU Freshman makes National Collegiate Archery All Academic Team

ASU Freshman, Ted Harden II, has been named to the 2005 USA Archery, College Division All-Academic Team. Harden competed against other collegiate archers across the country and finished 3rd on the All Academic Team.

He will also compete at the USA Intercollegiate Archery Championship (USIAC) in Mason, Georgia in late May, 2005. Several titles are at stake at USAIC including, All-American status and the 2005 Collegiate National Championship.

USAIC is also the US Collegiate World Team Trials and will select the US team that will compete in the 2005 Summer World University Games in Turkey. He has a good chance of doing well in all three competitions having been a Jr. US Archery Team and US Jr. World Team member in high school.

Sun Devil Archery Tradition:

Ted's achievement marks the return of competitive Olympic style archery to Arizona State University at a club level after a 12 year absence.

Between 1969 to 1993, Sun Devil Archery at ASU won 56 Collegiate Archery Nationals Championships. ASU archers have been named as All Americans 194 times. Link to ASU Traditions
2004 Athens Summer Olympics Bronze Medallist Alison Williamson is one the several former Sun Devil Archers that are Olympians.

Ted re-established the Sun Devil Archery club in the fall of 2004 and is working to expand the membership and establish practice facilities. Competitive archery takes dedication and frequent practices which make building the team difficult.

Future:

Ted noted that "A couple more Arizona Junior archers are planning to attend ASU this coming fall. "They are top national caliber archers, including the current female Jr. National Champion...if we can get a few more archers we can compete for the team titles."

Ted reports that "the support has been great, lots of people remember ASU championship archery." "We have a volunteer advisor who is an ASU Archery All American herself and we have raised almost $1000 for equipment and competition expenses...We just need more archers!"

Lindsay Pian and Ted Harden II at ASU's Club Rush

The archery table saw brisk and continuous interest during the annual "Passport to ASU" celebration held on August 19, where all different type of clubs vie for new members. 60 students signed up for more information. Another club rush is planned for later in the year.

Ted Harden II is heading up a new collegiate archery club at Arizona State University this year where he will be attending as a freshman.

Many people, who remember the glory years of the ASU Championship Archery Teams came by to inquire. It was rewarding to hear the fondness and sincerity.

ASU had a dominant archery team with 56 National Championships when ASU eliminated the varsity team in 1993 along with Badminton and Mens Gymnastics.

Ted will be hosting a website dedicated to Sun Devil Archery news where you will be able to find information on the club schedule, events, etc. His current email address to request more information is ted@unixfoo.net.

We will post the website link when it is available. Ted is also working with ASU Student Recreation to establish the club and secure an indoor shooting venue. Outdoor shooting will be at Papago Park, a couple of miles north of campus.

AZJOAD will lend support to the collegiate club until it is established.
